PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

The claims against Mr. Juracek have no basis in fact and, critically here, find no support in the law. As established in Mr. Juracek’s Motion to Dismiss (Dkt. 105, “Opening Brief” and “Br.”), the handful of allegations actually addressing him are insufficient to show wrongdoing. At most, the Complaint asserts that Mr. Juracek was acquainted with individuals engaged in mistreatment of the Plaintiffs and alleges that he possessed some “knowledge” of that alleged mistreatment. Even if those allegations were true, and they are not, they fall far short of the requirements for bringing suit under the federal sex trafficking, labor trafficking, and racketeering laws. This lawsuit reflects Plaintiffs’ desire to ensnare Mr. Juracek in litigation for treble damages, motivated by the incorrect belief that his position at Crow Holdings (a non-party company with no alleged role in this case) will somehow yield them a windfall. Not so. Mr. Juracek has established that dismissal is required on multiple grounds. Plaintiffs’ Opposition (Dkt. 113, “Opp.”) does not seriously engage with most of the authorities compelling dismissal of the claims against Mr. Juracek and, as documented below, it misapprehends the others. Instead, the Opposition opts for bombastic rhetoric in an effort to salvage the Complaint. Plainly recognizing that their allegations against Mr. Juracek are legally insufficient, Plaintiffs use their Opposition to purvey pulp fiction. While disgraceful, this strategy does not change the required result—the Complaint should be dismissed against Mr. Juracek for failure to state a claim and for the additional reason that the Court lacks personal jurisdiction over him.

REPLY ARGUMENT

Rule 12 provides two independent bases for dismissal as to Mr. Juracek—personal jurisdiction and failure to state a claim. As set forth in the Opening Brief and in Defendants’ Joint Response to this Court’s Order to Show Cause, a court may rule on the merits in favor of a movant without first determining personal jurisdiction. See Br. at 4 n.2 and Dkt. 109 at 11-12; Lee v. City of Beaumont, 12 F.3d 933, 937 (9th Cir. 1993). Given the significant expenditures of time and other resources already necessitated by Plaintiffs’ strategic decision to sue here, Mr. Juracek respectfully requests that the Court determine his, and other moving defendants’ Rule 12(b)(6) arguments before acting under Rule 12(b)(2) or 28 U.S.C. § 1404. Granting the Rule 12(b)(6) motions would be the most fair and efficient use of the Court’s and the parties’ resources.

I. PLAINTIFFS FAIL TO ESTABLISH THAT MR. JURACEK IS SUBJECT TO PERSONAL JURISDICTION

Plaintiffs do not contest that Mr. Juracek is not subject to general jurisdiction. Cf. Br. at 6. As to specific jurisdiction, the Opposition wrongly asserts that jurisdiction can arise from Mr. Juracek’s alleged knowledge and awareness of Dr. Eller’s activities in California. Opp. at 6-7 (asserting that Mr. Juracek had “familiarity with the Venture” and “knowledge of the Forced Sex Parties,” claiming that he “knew or recklessly disregarded Eller’s central role in the Venture,” and that he acted (while in Texas) “knowing that a central part of the Venture was based in California”). In this, Plaintiffs seek to rewrite more than half a century of precedent dating back to International Shoe. Finding personal jurisdiction based on an out-of-state defendant’s alleged mental impressions about another defendant’s in-forum conduct, rather than focusing on that defendant’s actual forum activities, finds no support in the law and would invalidate the gatekeeping function of “minimum contacts” analysis. See, e.g., AMA Multimedia, LLC v. Wanat, 970 F.3d 1201, 1207 (9th Cir. 2020) (describing the appropriate test as focused on a defendant “direct[ing] his activities toward the forum” or availing “privileges of conducting activities in the forum”) (emphasis added); accord Lazar v. Kroncke, 862 F.3d 1186, 1201-02 (9th Cir. 2017) (cited by Plaintiffs (Opp. at 6) for the same propositions). A defendant’s knowledge of another party’s actions is not an “activity” that occurs in or is directed toward a forum and is therefore not a forum contact. Indeed, Plaintiffs rely on Burger King v. Rudzewicz, 471 U.S. 462 (1985) as alleged support for their position, but disregard that each of the court’s multiple examples of “purposefully direct[ing]” activities at a forum concern tangible

1 or legal projections by a defendant into a forum: i.e., “delivering ... products into the 2 stream of commerce,” id. (quoting World-Wide Volkswagen Corp. v. Woodson, 444 3 U.S. 286, 297 (1980)); “distribut[ing] magazines in a distant State,” id. (citing Calder 4 v. Jones, 465 U.S. 783 (1984)); and, as to contract, “creat[ing] continuing 5 relationships and obligations with citizens of another state,” id. (quoting Travelers 6 Health Assn. v. Virginia, 339 U.S. 643, 647 (1950)). None of these rules are consistent 7 with treating “knowledge” of distant activities as a sufficient jurisdictional “minimum 8 contact.” Under Plaintiffs’ purported rule, a person being told (or even reading) about 9 someone else’s activities in a forum would give rise to jurisdiction over that person 10 in the forum. That cannot be the law; and it is not.

11 Plaintiffs do not contend that Mr. Juracek ever set foot in California in 12 connection with the allegations, that he directed any conduct that caused harm in 13 California, or that he had any communication (in person or otherwise) with Dr. Eller, 14 who was allegedly in California at relevant times.¹ Opp. at 6-7. Thus, to satisfy the 15 Calder test (which the Opposition fails to address), Plaintiffs must show that Mr.
 16 Juracek “committed an intentional act” that was “expressly aimed” at California and 17 which caused harm “likely to be suffered in the forum state.” Br. at 6 (quoting Wanat, 18 970 F.3d at 1208). The Complaint hardly alleges that Mr. Juracek took any affirmative 19 actions in connection with the alleged “venture” or “enterprise,” describing his 20 “conduct” as having passive knowledge. See Br. at 3 (reviewing each allegation 21 addressing Mr. Juracek). And as to the two single-sentence allegations that he took an 22 action—“providing financial support” and “threaten[ing] Hubbard with his 23 testimony”—even if true, neither was even allegedly “aimed at California,” and 24 therefore any resulting harm would not have occurred in California (but would have 25 occurred in Texas, where Plaintiffs resided at all relevant times). Br. at 6-7. The 26

27 ¹ Dr. Eller’s alleged activity cannot be attributed to Mr. Juracek for the additional 28 reason that “jurisdiction over each defendant must be analyzed separately.” Harris Rutsky & Co. Ins. Servs. v. Bell & Clements Ltd., 328 F.3d 1122, 1130 (9th Cir. 2003).

1 Opposition gives no response to these arguments because there is none. See also Dkt.
2 109 (Def’s Joint OSC Response).²

3 Mr. Juracek has additionally demonstrated that personal jurisdiction could not 4 arise through 18 U.S.C. § 1965(b) (RICO). Br. at 8-10. Recognizing that their RICO 5 claims are invalid, Plaintiffs ignore this showing and therefore concede the point.
6 Yagman v. Wunderlich, No. 2:21-CV-06093-SB-MRW, 2021 WL 6804219, at *2 7 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 4, 2021) (“If a party fails to respond to an argument made on a motion 8 to dismiss, a court may find such failure constitutes waiver or abandonment of the 9 issue.”); see also C.D. Cal. Local Rule 7-9 (requiring non-movant to file a 10 memorandum containing “a statement of all the reasons in opposition” to a motion).

11 II. PLAINTIFFS FAIL TO DEFEND ANY CLAIM UNDER RULE 12(b)(6)

12 A. THE COMPLAINT DOES NOT STATE A TVPA CLAIM

13 The Opposition fails to support the TVPA claim which, as established (Br. at 14 11), may be pleaded only against a “perpetrator” or a “beneficiary” of a trafficking 15 venture. Doe v. Fitzgerald, No. CV-2010713-MWFRAOX, 2022 WL 2784805, at *1 16 (C.D. Cal. May 13, 2022). Plaintiffs abandon any claim for “perpetrator” liability, 17 asserting only that the Complaint states a beneficiary claim. Opp. at 9. As established 18 by Mr. Juracek (Br. at 13-16), this fails because: (1) the Complaint does not contain 19 any facts (as they are actually alleged, and not as embellished in the Opposition) 20 showing that he participated in, assisted, or supported the alleged venture; and (2) 21 Plaintiffs’ Opposition misrepresents the meaning of a “thing of value.”³

23 ² This Court should reject Plaintiffs’ boilerplate request for jurisdictional 24 discovery (Opp. at 9) because they do not identify any factual dispute which discovery 25 would resolve. Wells Fargo & Co. v. Wells Fargo Exp. Co., 556 F.2d 406, 430 n.24 26 (9th Cir. 1977) (no discovery where “it is clear that further discovery would not demonstrate facts sufficient to constitute a basis for jurisdiction”).

27 ³ Plaintiffs’ Opposition fails to respond to the principal argument made in Mr.
28 Juracek’s Motion concerning the TVPA allegations—that the Complaint does not attempt to establish “a causal relationship between affirmative conduct furthering the

1 1. The Complaint Does Not Adequately Allege “Participation”

2 As Mr. Juracek explained, under TVPA “[m]ere association with sex 3 traffickers is insufficient absent some knowing ‘participation’ in the form of 4 assistance, support, or facilitation.” Does 1-6 v. Reddit, Inc., 51 F.4th 1137, 1145 (9th 5 Cir. 2022) (emphasis added); see also Noble v. Weinstein, 335 F. Supp. 3d 504, 524 6 (S.D.N.Y. 2018) (noting that liability cannot be “established by association alone,” 7 and that a plaintiff must “allege specific conduct that furthered the sex trafficking 8 venture”). The Opposition attempts to avoid this legal reality by painting Mr. Juracek 9 as “an active and knowing supporter of the Venture” rather than a mere associate.
10 Opp. at 10-11. But association is all that the Complaint alleges—Mr. Juracek is 11 described as a passive and incidental bystander to Rick Hubbard’s alleged trafficking 12 venture without actual knowledge of its operations. See Compl. ¶¶ 40, 209-212 13 (containing all material allegations); Br. at 3. The only connection that Mr. Juracek is 14 alleged to have had to the “venture” is that of a “fixer” for Trammell Crow, Jr. (¶ 15 209), but even as to this role the Complaint only alleges a single action allegedly 16 constituting “participation”—supposedly “threaten[ing] Hubbard with his testimony” 17 in a custody dispute. Compl., ¶ 211. As explained in the Opening Brief (Br. at 15, 18), 18 this allegation does not constitute “participation” for at least two reasons.

19 First, there is nothing improper or illegal about offering testimony in a judicial 20 proceeding and it is entirely unclear—and the Opposition fails to clarify—how this 21 alleged potential testimony might have “assisted” or “supported” sex trafficking as 22 the law requires for beneficiary liability. Reddit, 51 F.4th at 1145. Plaintiffs’ argument 23 is pure ipse dixit that this sentence suffices to establish a sex trafficking claim.

24 Second, likely recognizing this infirmity, Plaintiffs disregard the Complaint’s actual

25 _____
26 sex-trafficking venture and receipt of a benefit.” Does 1-6 v. Reddit, Inc., 51 F.4th 27 1137, 1145 (9th Cir. 2022) (emphasis added). That is, for either “benefit” Plaintiffs 28 contend Mr. Juracek received—whether “naked photographs” or, somehow, compensation—Plaintiffs fail to allege that he received them because of some affirmative action he undertook.

1 language and assert that Juracek both threatened “false testimony,” Opp. at 2, 5, 10 2 (emphasis added) and intended to “misuse the legal process.” Id. at 9 (emphasis 3 added). Neither of these allegations appear in the Complaint. See Compl. ¶¶ 40, 211, 4 213. Plaintiffs use the Opposition in an impermissible effort to salvage the claim by 5 reinventing their allegation as one that could possibly benefit sex traffickers.⁴ See Oei 6 v. N. Star Cap. Acquisitions, LLC, 486 F. Supp. 2d 1089, 1102 (C.D. Cal. 2006) (“In 7 determining the propriety of a Rule 12(b)(6) dismissal, a court may not look beyond 8 the complaint to a plaintiff’s moving papers, such as a memorandum in opposition to 9 a defendant’s motion to dismiss.”); see also Davis v. Powell, No. 10CV01891 JLS 10 RBB, 2011 WL 4344251, at *18 n.8 (S.D. Cal. Aug. 9, 2011), R&R adopted, No.
 11 10CV1891 JLS RBB, 2011 WL 4344240 (S.D. Cal. Sept. 15, 2011) (“Any additional 12 arguments and facts in support of the [plaintiff’s] claims not raised in the Complaint 13 initially may not be considered by the Court.”); Sakala v. BAC Home Loans Servicing, 14 CV. NO. 10–00578 DAE–LEK, 2011 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17890, at *15 (D. Haw. Feb.
 15 22, 2011) (“[Briefing] is not a proper vehicle for adding claims to [a] complaint.”).

16 There are there are no allegations plausibly showing that Mr. Juracek actively 17 participated in or furthered the alleged sex trafficking venture. The Complaint 18 portrays Mr. Juracek, at most, as a distant bystander who, by mere association with 19 Rick Hubbard, allegedly knew about wrongful conduct. That is wholly insufficient to 20 drag someone into court and label them a sex trafficker. Reddit, 51 F. 4th at 1145.

21 2. The Complaint Does Not Adequately Allege “Thing Of Value”

22 The only allegation in the Complaint potentially referring to a benefit obtained 23 by Mr. Juracek is that he allegedly received “naked photos of Hubbard.”⁵ Compl. ¶¶

24
 25 ⁴ These concepts (“false” and “misuse”) are not in the Complaint for a reason—26 no reasonable investigation could yield a good faith belief that this is true. Mr. Juracek continues to reserve all rights, including under Rule 11. Br. at n.1.

27 ⁵ The Complaint also alludes to Mr. Juracek’s employment at Crow Holdings as 28 a potential thing of “value.” but as explained in Opening Brief, there are no allegations

1 40, 211. Specifically, the allegation is that “Juracek supported the Venture by 2 providing financial support . . . and benefitted by receiving naked photos of Hubbard.”
 3 Id. ¶ 40. The Complaint also alleges (attributing conduct to Rick Hubbard, and not 4 Mr. Juracek) that “Rick informed [Julia] Hubbard that he had provided Juracek with 5 naked photos of Hubbard.” (Id. ¶ 211).

6 Even if true, which is hotly disputed, the alleged photographs do not constitute 7 a thing of value sufficient to sustain a TVPA claim. Mr. Juracek’s Opening Brief 8 unambiguously described the law in this District—which is that “sexual gratification 9 alone” is not a “thing of value” under TVPA. Doe v. Fitzgerald, No.
 10 CV2010713MWFRAOX, 2022 WL 425016, at *6–7 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 6, 2022); see 11 Treminio v. Crowley Mar. Corp., No. 3:22-CV-174-MMH-PDB, 2023 WL 113565, 12 at *3 (M.D. Fla. Jan. 5, 2023). Plaintiffs insist that these photos satisfy the “thing of 13 value” standard, but the Opposition misapprehends the case law and asks this Court 14 to extend it far beyond its proper context.

15 Plaintiffs rely on Doe v. Twitter and Does 1-6 v. Reddit for the premise that 16 “child pornography” is a “thing of value” under TVPA. Opp. at 11-12. That does not 17 bear on the facts at hand. Child pornography is flatly illegal and for that reason is not 18 the equivalent of “naked photographs” of an adult. The cases cited in the Opening 19 highlight this distinction.⁶ Moreover, the Opposition misapplies both Twitter and 20 Reddit—neither holds that nude photos were themselves a thing of value, but rather,

21
 22 that connect Mr. Juracek’s employment to the alleged trafficking venture and no facts 23 would ever support it. Mr. Hubbard does not work for or have any connection to Crow 24 Holdings, so he could not provide Mr. Juracek “value” for working there. The Opposition has abandoned this tortured theory in any event.

25 ⁶ In this regard, Plaintiffs have additionally failed to distinguish non-commercial 26 nude photographs from the “multi-billion dollar [pornography] industry.” See Opp. at 27 12. Plaintiffs offer no grounds for equating the private transmission of images from 28 one person to another with pornography. Surely, the difference in settings—where only the latter is a commercial market—is a critical distinction for assessing whether something possesses “value” under TVPA.

1 that the defendants’ ability to monetize them could be a thing of value. See Doe v.
 2 Twitter, 555 F. Supp. 3d 889, 924 N.D. Cal. 2021 (stating that pornographic videos 3 were “monetized by Twitter and [received] financial benefit from their distribution 4 on [the] platform”); Reddit, 51 F.4th 1137, 1145 (prohibiting TVPA liability against 5 those “that merely turn a blind eye to the source of their revenue”) (citation omitted); 6 see also U.S. v. Cook, 782 F.3d 983, 989 (8th Cir. 2015) (explaining that live streamed 7 sexual torture videos had “value” because the defendant traded them for his own 8 videos, photos, and advice). There are simply no allegations (and none would have 9 merit) that Mr. Juracek ever profited, or sought to profit, from the photographs 10 Plaintiffs alleged he received. Indeed, Mr. Juracek is alleged only to have had passive 11 involvement—he “received” the photographs; there are no allegations that he 12 solicited, asked for, inquired about, paid for, or traded them for any other item, favor, 13 service, or money.

14 Plaintiffs also rely on J.C. v. Choice Hotels, which describes an instance of 15 TVPA liability against a hotel that had knowingly rented rooms to known sex 16 traffickers. No. 20-CV-00155-WHO, 2020 WL 6318707, at *7 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 28, 17 2020). Nothing in the Complaint comes close to describing any analogous behavior 18 by Mr. Juracek (or any of the other so-called “Investor” defendants). The Complaint 19 makes the sweeping, non-specific and unsupported allegation that Mr. Juracek 20 provided “financial support to the Venture,” without detailing when, why, in what 21 form, how much, or to whom. This Court should treat vague allegations that Mr.
 22 Juracek supported the venture financially for what they are—threadbare recitals of 23 fact which “fail to cross the line from merely possible to being plausible.” Bell Atl.
 24 Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007).

25 As their last-ditch argument to ensnare Mr. Juracek, Plaintiffs suggest that a 26 “sexual opportunity” is a sufficient “thing of value” to establish TVPA beneficiary 27 liability. See United States v. Maneri, 353 F.3d 165, 168 (2d Cir. 2003); Opp. at 11.
 28 But Plaintiffs do not state, or even suggest, that Mr. Juracek sought any kind of 1 “sexual opportunity” with either Plaintiff.

2 A central claim in Plaintiffs’ Opposition concerning TVPA is their argument 3 that defendants who have been absolved of liability in previous cases were 4 “employees and companies with incidental connections to trafficking.” Opp. at 11 5 (emphasis added). But this almost perfectly describes how the Complaint describes 6 Mr. Juracek, even when read favorably for Plaintiffs. Br. at 3 (cataloging allegations).
 7 See Reddit, Inc., 51 F.4th at 1145 (declining TVPA liability because “the defendant 8 must have actually engaged in some aspect of sex trafficking”) (citation omitted); see 9 also Eclectic Props. East, LLC v. Marcus & Millichap Co., 751 F.3d 990, 997 (9th 10 Cir. 2014) (affirming dismissal “because, when faced with two possible explanations, 11 only one of which can be true and only one of which results in liability, plaintiffs 12 cannot offer allegations that are merely consistent with their favored explanation but 13 are also consistent with the alternative explanation”). Because liability cannot be 14 “established by association alone,” Noble, 335 F. Supp. 3d at 524, and because there 15 is no plausible showing of active participation by Mr. Juracek, the TVPA sex 16 trafficking claim must be dismissed.

17 B. THE COMPLAINT DOES NOT STATE A LABOR
 18 TRAFFICKING CLAIM

19 Plaintiffs’ labor trafficking claim suffers many of the same infirmities as the 20 TVPA claim. See Br. at 16-18. Here too, the Opposition focuses on beneficiary 21 liability, which follows when a defendant “knowingly benefit[ed], financially or by 22 receiving anything of value, from participation in a venture which has engaged in the 23 providing or obtaining of labor or services by any of the means described in 24 subsection (a), knowing or in reckless disregard of the fact that the venture has 25 engaged in the providing or obtaining of labor or services by any of such means.” 18 26 U.S.C. § 1589(b). For the same reasons shown above, Mr. Juracek is not a beneficiary 27 because he neither participated in the venture, nor received anything of value from his 28 alleged participation. On its face, the Complaint alleges only that Mr. Juracek

1 indicated he would give “testimony in court.” See Br. at 18; State Farm Mut. Auto.
 2 Ins. Co. v. Lee, 193 Cal. App. 4th 34, 40 (2011) (noting that abuse of process requires 3 an ulterior motive in using the process willfully and in a wrongful manner); Moore v.
 4 Bushman, 559 S.W. 3d 645, 653 (Tex. App. 2018) (similar standard in Texas).⁷

5 C. THE COMPLAINT FAILS TO STATE A RICO CLAIM

6 A RICO plaintiff must plausibly plead (and ultimately establish) multiple 7 discrete elements as defined by both the statutory text and the extensive caselaw 8 applying it. RICO cannot be stated through abstraction: “Each element of the claim 9 is necessary to sustain an action under RICO,” Jones v. Hollywood Unlocked, Inc., 10 No. 2:21-CV-07929, 2022 WL 18674460, at *5 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 22, 2022) (emphasis 11 added), and a plaintiff “must, of course, allege each of these elements to state a 12 claim.” Sedima, S.P.R.L. v. Imrex Co., Inc., 473 U.S. 479, 496 (1985) (emphasis 13 added). Moreover, a viable complaint must specify each element as to each defendant; 14 vague grouping will not suffice. See In re JUUL Labs, Inc., Mktg., Sales Pracs. &
 15 Prod. Liab. Litig., 497 F. Supp. 3d 552, 594 (N.D. Cal. 2014) (dismissing RICO 16 claims and stating that, “[t]o state a RICO claim, plaintiffs must plausibly allege that 17 each defendant acted” in violation of the four core elements of a RICO claim) (citing 18 Eclectic Props. E., LLC, 751 F.3d at 996). That is, “each claim and the involvement 19 of each defendant must be sufficiently alleged.” Comm. to Protect our Agric. Water 20 v. Occidental Oil & Gas Corp., 235 F. Supp. 3d 1132, 1188 (E.D. Cal. 2017) 21 (emphasis added).

22 Mr. Juracek’s Opening Brief showed that the Complaint fails to allege multiple 23 essential elements against him. Br. at 18-24. Failure on any one of these necessitates 24 _____

25 ⁷ Once again, the Opposition improperly takes liberties with what is actually 26 alleged in the Complaint. Compare Opp. at 7 (stating that “Juracek also threatened 27 Hubbard with misuse of legal process by threatening to provide false testimony in 28 court”) and id. at 8, 9, 11, 16, 17 (similar), with Compl. ¶ 211 (“Juracek also threatened Hubbard with his testimony in court that could have Hubbard’s children taken away from her.”).

1 dismissal. The Opposition utterly fails to support each element. Plaintiffs fail to 2 explain how the Complaint specifically asserts conduct by Mr. Juracek (not the 3 “Enterprise” generally), and in the few instances they actually address Mr. Juracek 4 directly, they veer far from the actual contents of the pleading’s cursory text.

5 1. The Complaint Does Not Allege Multiple Essential Elements
 6 Of A 1962(C) RICO Claim Against Mr. Juracek

7 (a) Insufficient Pattern of Racketeering Activity
 8 Allegations

9 In a multiple defendant case, as here, “a plaintiff must allege at least two 10 predicate acts by each defendant.” In re Wellpoint, Inc. Rates Litig., 865 F. Supp. 2d 11 1002, 1035 (C.D. Cal. 2011) (emphasis added). The Complaint does not adequately 12 allege that Mr. Juracek engaged in two or more RICO predicate acts, and the 13 Opposition fails to establish otherwise, for two primary reasons.

14 First, as set forth by Mr. Juracek in the Opening Brief, Plaintiffs expressly (and 15 improperly) allege that broad categories of predicate acts were undertaken by “all 16 Defendants” or all members of “the Enterprise.” Br. at 20. That assertion fails to 17 provide adequate notice to Mr. Juracek (or, indeed, almost any defendant) of the 18 claims against him and calls for dismissal. See Comm. to Protect our Agric. Water, 19 235 F. Supp. 3d at 1188; see also In re Platinum & Palladium Commodities Litig., 20 828 F. Supp. 2d 588, 602 (S.D.N.Y. 2011) (dismissing RICO claim where 21 “[p]laintiffs rely impermissibly on group pleading to allege the existence of 22 predicate acts underpinning their RICO claim” (emphasis added)); Fed. R. Civ. P.
 23 8. Remarkably, the Opposition adopts this exact form of impermissible pleading as 24 its argument, asserting that “Plaintiffs have pleaded numerous related predicate acts 25 (at least two of which^[8] accrue to Juracek),” and citing a host of paragraphs absent 26 any specified connection to Mr. Juracek. Opp. at 18.

27 Second, Plaintiffs are patently incorrect in claiming that Mr. Juracek “offers no 28

⁸ Tellingly, Plaintiffs either cannot or decline to state which “two.”

1 rebuttal” to these categorical predicate act allegations, “except that TVPA claims do 2 not lie against” him. Id. The TVPA claims, to be sure, fail as a matter of law (supra)
 3 and thus, cannot constitute predicate conduct. In fact, the Opposition explains why 4 there is no TVPA liability for Mr. Juracek by confirming that Plaintiffs’ allegations 5 against him are merely that he allegedly “was aware” of parties allegedly hosted by 6 Trammell Crow, Jr. Opp. at 18 (emphasis added). Knowledge alone is universally 7 insufficient for TVPA liability, which requires, inter alia, “affirmative conduct 8 furthering” the venture. Reddit, 51 F.4th at 1145; supra n.3; Br. at 11-14. Mr. Juracek 9 also detailed how the Complaint fails to adequately allege that he committed 10 unspecified predicate acts in the form of CSA violations, wire fraud, and witness 11 tampering. Br. at 21-22. The Opposition makes no arguments in response to these 12 critical points or the authorities Mr. Juracek cited in support of dismissal, waiving any 13 contention that these allegations can stand as predicate acts against Mr. Juracek. See 14 Yagman, 2021 WL 6804219, at *2; C.D. Cal. L.R. 7-9. Here, Plaintiffs abandon any 15 argument that Mr. Juracek committed two predicates (apart from the otherwise invalid 16 TVPA claims). Because the Complaint does not allege viable predicate acts against 17 Mr. Juracek, there is no “pattern of racketeering,” and the RICO claim fails.

18 (b) Insufficient “Conduct” or “Direction” Allegations

19 Mr. Juracek established that the Complaint does not allege that he played any 20 managerial role in the “Enterprise” sufficient to meet the “conduct” element. Br. at 21 24. Plaintiffs attempt to avoid this result by mischaracterizing both the legal standard 22 and the Complaint. First, Plaintiffs cite Kelmar v. Bank of Am. Corp., No. CV 12-23 6826 PSG (EX), 2012 WL 12850425 (C.D. Cal. Oct. 26, 2012) for the proposition 24 that this element “does not require even ‘significant control’ over the Enterprise.”
 25 Opp. at 19. But Plaintiffs omit the very next sentence from Kelmar, which confirms 26 that “more is required than simply being involved, and simply performing services 27 for the enterprise does not rise to the level of direction.” 2012 WL 12850425, at *7 28 (internal quotations omitted). Like Mr. Juracek (Br. at 24), the court in Kelmar cited

1 Walter v. Drayson, 538 F.3d 1244, 1249 (9th Cir. 2008) for these rules and—as would 2 be appropriate here—dismissed the RICO claim as “deficient in many respects.” 2012
 3 WL 12850425, at *7. It remains that RICO requires allegations of “managerial control 4 over the enterprise,” Ally Bank v. Castle, 11-CV-896-YGR, 2012 WL 3627631 (N.D.
 5 Cal. Aug. 20, 2012) (internal quotations omitted), such that the defendant “controlled 6 the other members in the associated-in-fact enterprise.” Downey Surgical Clinic, Inc.
 7 v. Ingenix, Inc., No. CV 09-5457 PSG (CTX), 2013 WL 1214070, at *4 (C.D. Cal.
 8 Dec. 11, 2013). Nothing in the scant allegations addressing Mr. Juracek suggests 9 anything beyond a passive role. Br. at 3.

10 Second, Plaintiffs cling to their sole allegation that Mr. Juracek took any 11 affirmative action—a single sentence from Paragraph 211 claiming, in full, that 12 “Juracek also threatened Hubbard with his testimony in court that could have 13 Hubbard’s children taken away from her.” Opp. at 19. Again, Plaintiffs 14 mischaracterize this allegation by insisting that it claims “misuse of legal process” 15 and that the threat was “at the behest of the Enterprise.” Id. Neither of those assertions 16 appear or are suggested in the text of the Complaint and, in any event, Mr. Juracek 17 already explained that this allegation would not support liability—the alleged “threat” 18 is, at most, a “service” to the enterprise’s ends, not managerial “conduct” necessary 19 to “direct” it. See Br. at 24. Plaintiffs have no response and give none.

20 (c) Insufficient Enterprise Allegations

21 To sustain the premise that the twenty-nine disparate defendants in this action 22 (which Plaintiffs concede allegedly operated in different groups) constitute an 23 “association in fact enterprise,” Plaintiffs were required to allege facts establishing 24 that all defendants share the same common purpose. They failed to do so. See Br. at 25 22-23. Plaintiffs do not engage with, and surely do not rebut, the cases establishing 26 that a common purpose is not established when there are “sets of defendants 27 allegedly operating with rather distinct purposes.” Gianelli v. Schoenfeld, 2021 WL 28 4690724, at *12 (E.D. Cal. Oct 7, 2021). That is exactly what Plaintiffs assert here.

1 Indeed, the Opposition’s own quote from the Complaint contains two distinct 2 purposes: trafficking women “to [1] the financial benefit of Mr. [Rick] Hubbard, Eller, 3 and the Medical Doctor Defendants, and [2] for the sexual gratification and other 4 benefits of all Defendants.” Opp. at 15-16 (quoting Compl. ¶ 341) (emphasis added).
 5 The decision in Odom v. Microsoft Corp., 486 F.3d 541, 452 (9th Cir. 2007) (cited in 6 Opp. at 16) is not to the contrary. There, the plaintiff alleged that Microsoft and Best 7 Buy shared both the purpose of “increasing the number” of users and “doing so by 8 fraudulent means.” Here, while the “trafficking” allegation is common, the groups 9 were allegedly engaged in trafficking for different purposes—financial benefit or 10 sexual gratification. Compl. ¶ 341. This exact type of difference defeated the common 11 purpose element in Gianelli, where the court found some defendants “work[ed] to 12 defraud PG&E to their own profit, while the only identified goal of [others] was to 13 punish plaintiff.” 2021 WL 4690724, at *12; see also Marshall v. Goguen, 604 F.
 14 Supp. 3d 980, 1013 (D. Mont. 2022) (similar). Moreover, Plaintiffs cannot prevail 15 based on a single paragraph in their recital of the RICO claim (as Paragraph 341 is to 16 Count Four), whereas the factual assertions throughout the pleading establish distinct 17 purposes. See Br. at 23 (describing and citing defendants’ diverse purposes).

18 (d) Plaintiffs Do Not Establish RICO Standing

19 To sustain a RICO claim, Plaintiffs must establish that a concrete loss to 20 business or property was caused by the alleged racketeering conduct. Canyon Cnty.
 21 v. Syngenta Seeds, Inc., 519 F.3d 969, 975 (9th Cir. 2008); see Br. at 19-20. For 22 efficiency before this Court, Mr. Juracek incorporated the argument of Trammell 23 Crow, Jr., and likewise does so for this Reply. See Dkt. 90 at 8-10.

24 (e) Plaintiff Hubbard’s Claims Are Time Barred

25 Plaintiff Julia Hubbard opposes the showing that her claims are time barred 26 with an offer to “allege additional facts” regarding events allegedly taking place in 27 December 2018; one month within the four-year limitations period for a RICO claim.
 28 Opp. at 19. Concededly, then, the bulk of the allegations in the Complaint occurred

1 outside the limitations period. For efficiency before this Court, Mr. Juracek 2 incorporated the argument of Trammell Crow, Jr. and likewise does so for this Reply.
 3 See Dkt. 90 at 14.

4 2. The Complaint Does Not Allege A 1962(D) Conspiracy

5 At the outset, Plaintiffs do not dispute that a RICO conspiracy claim fails where 6 a complaint does not adequately allege a substantive RICO violation. Howard v.
 7 America Online, Inc., 208 F.3d 741, 751 (9th Cir. 2000); see Br. at 25; cf. Opp. at 20.
 8 The conspiracy claim fails on this basis. Additionally, it fails because nothing in the 9 Complaint indicates that Mr. Juracek “agreed to commit, or participated in, a violation 10 of two predicate offenses.” Howard, 208 F.3d at 751; Br. at 25. The crux of any legal 11 “conspiracy” is a defendant’s agreement. E.g., United States v. Loveland, 825 F.3d 12 555, 557 (9th Cir. 2016) (“Conspiracy means an agreement to commit a crime[.]”); 13 People v. Johnson, 57 Cal.4th 250, 258 (2013) (“[C]onspiracy punishes the agreement 14 itself[.]”). Plaintiffs’ Opposition misstates Mr. Juracek’s argument—it is irrelevant 15 for Plaintiffs to allege that he “at all relevant times had full knowledge” about the 16 Enterprise because they do not (and cannot) allege that he agreed to commit 17 racketeering predicate acts. See Salinas v. United States, 552 U.S. 52 (1997) (holding 18 that a RICO conspiracy claim requires establishing that a defendant “knew about and 19 agreed to facilitate the [RICO] scheme”) (emphasis added). Plaintiffs cannot proceed 20 under 1962(d).

21 CONCLUSION

22 Nothing in the Complaint plausibly suggests that Mr. Juracek was engaged in 23 sex trafficking, labor trafficking, or racketeering, and nothing in the Opposition shows 24 otherwise. There are no grounds for Mr. Juracek to remain in this lawsuit, both as a 25 matter of substance under Rule 12(b)(6) and on the question of jurisdiction under Rule 26 12(b)(2). Accordingly, Mr. Juracek respectfully requests dismissal of the Complaint 27 against him with prejudice.
